

YOU LOVE ME AS I AM

Under the weight of the world there I stood
I could not see the light
I could not see the good
I had been drowning inside for so long
Trying to hide from the shame
Of what I had done wrong

You open the door
And you call out my name
You say I am yours
The reason you came

You love me as I am
You're the one who understands
You hold me through the pain
And leave no blame
You reach out for my hand
And meet me where I stand
You don't give up on me
You set me free
You love me as I am
As I am

I had been living a life locked in chains
I could not find the key
I could not see the way
Only you fill what's empty inside
I know I'm not alone
There's no reason to hide

You Love me as I am
You're the one who understands
You hold me through the pain
And leave no blame
You reach out for my hand
And meet me where I stand
You don't give up on me
You set me free

You never leave my side
Where I am there you are
You are my strength and guide

Whatever may come

You love me as I am

You're the one who understands

You hold me through the pain

And leave no blame

You reach out for my hand

And meet me where I stand

You don't give up on me

You set me free

You love me as I am

You love me as I am

You love me as I am

As I am
